

Candyfloss Martyrs

Acclaim for Graham Lironi's second novel about the novel

"Disturbing yet seductive, obscene and entrancing; leads a merry dance with the mind, luring you into a world of dubious sex and power games between characters carefully draped in individual shrouds of mystery." The List

"In turns erotic and stomach-churning, it has the pace, intensity and cultural referencing of a literary Pulp Fiction; a biting indictment of the nature of fame and power." The List

"A seriously carnal but compulsive novel that possesses an implicit but warped Biblical morality." The Herald

"A provocative novel of considerable depth and intelligence that seeks to needle the reader's consciousness as well as entertain in Technicolour."
The Herald

"NOVEL OF THE WEEK: Using thriller conventions Lironi goes beyond skin-deep genre fiction to explore identity, gender and duality . . . a slick unfussy writer who keeps things moving to their sticky end." Sunday Herald

"The lively, well-paced action is sandwiched between two quotes about mirrors from Jean Cocteau. Lironi's novel wittily traces parallel lives that mirror each other but finally converge in destruction; he looks at the spaces and the blur between reality and fiction." Scottish Book Collector

about the author

"The new bad boy of Scottish fiction is misbehaving very well indeed."
The List

"An intelligent, original and disturbing new voice in Scottish fiction."
A.L. Kennedy

"An impressively talented cult author who writes of sex and resurrection."
The Herald

"Graham Lironi is for real." Scotsman

Black Ace Books

PO Box 7547, Perth, PH2 1AU, Scotland

Answerphone: 01821-642822 Fax: 01821-642101

www.blackacebooks.com

